Nordic Aluminium designs, produces, markets and supplies demanding aluminium products and components for the electrotechnical, telecommunications, transportation, ship building, machine design and commercial construction industries. Its forty years of experience in aluminium extrusion and processing combined with close cooperation with the customers and partners guarantees the company's strong market position.

Nordic Aluminium is the domestic market leader in all its key business areas and one of the leading manufacturers of lighting tracks throughout Europe. Amongst aluminium profile extruders in the Nordic area, the company offers the highest degree and a wide range of profile products and value added services. Nordic Aluminium exports roughly 40 % of its product range directly and another third leaves Finland through its customers, export sales.
